FOUR MORE REDFCLIFF MEN IN CASUALTIES

Four Three Have Made
Supreme Sacrifice—Fourth is Slightly Wounded—All Are Well Known Here

The news which has come to hand during the past week would indicate that three more men from Redcliff have made the supreme sacrifice, and a fourth one has been wounded. Those named as lost are: Thos. W. Hall, F. C. Pearson and Wilfred Lee, and the one reported wounded is Wm. Miller.

THOMAS W. HALL.
In June of last year Private Hall was reported missing and as all efforts to get further traces of him have failed it is now believed to be confirmed that he has fallen. Last week's casualty list has his name among the killed. He added Private Hall was a Welshman by birth but had been living in Redcliff for nearly four years before he enlisted. He was a young man about 23 years of age and leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss. Mrs. Hall and family still reside in Redcliff and they go out our sincere sympathy in their sad loss.

F. C. PEARSON.
This name appears in the casualty list under the heading of killed in action with the mounted rifles and although no official notice has been sent to anyone here there is no doubt that the person meant is Fred C. Pearson, formerly of the Redcliff hotel staff here, as Fred enlisted with the 3rd mounted rifles and these were his initials. Pearson was a young man in the early thirties and leaves a wife in England. He was of a bright, lively disposition and was well known around here.

WILFRED LEE.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee of this town, received word last week that their son, Wilfred, had been wounded on April 8th and had been missing since that time. There is a possibility that he has been taken prisoner but the severe fighting about that time leaves little hope. Lee lived with his parents here and for a time was employed at the Brick Works, plant shortly after the war broke out he went to Saskatchewan and while there he enlisted with the 3rd battalion. He was 22 years of age and unmarried. Orford Lee, a farmer in the Bowell district is a brother.

WILLIAM MILLER.
A wire arrived from the militia department this morning announcing that Private Wm. Miller, 40th battalion, had been taken to a military hospital on April 30th, suffering from contusion. As he is only reported as bruised it is not likely his wounds are serious. Miller is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Miller of this town. He is only 22 years of age and enlisted with the 68th. He has been in the trenches almost continuously now for over a year. His brother, Sam, was killed in action last June.

Crisis in Russia Appears to be Past

Events in Russia the past week have caused some anxiety to the allies. It was reported that the socialist element, influenced by the German socialist, were demanding that hostilities be ended by making a separate peace with Germany.
The Russian foreign minister, M. Milukoff, has, however, removed the anxiety by stating:
"The government has won a great victory. Our policy remains unchanged. We have conceded nothing."
The socialist council of soldier and labor delegates agree with the statement. They assert, indeed, that the result of the crisis has been confirmed, but it is beyond doubt that the government has emerged from the crisis of the last few days strengthened in power and prestige and that Milukoff has won a great personal victory.

Orders, in Russia on the Black Sea, was visited by a German airplane, being the first occasion in which a German machine has flown over this Russian seaport.

Canadians In Hard Fight at Fresno

During the past week the Canadians have been engaged in some stubborn fighting around Fresno. Early in the week they lost this position but later retook it only to lose it again the following day.

In giving an account of the situation a report from London says:
In the great contest for possession of Fresno, the battle is still raging with the advantage at the moment in favor of the British. Wednesday morning the Germans came at the Canadians, who were holding the village and its approach, and finally penetrated the trenches northeast of the village, and once entered the outskirts of the village itself. Their tenure of the position was short-lived, for the Canadians soon afterwards returned to the fray, drove out the Germans and again held full sway.

Reforming later, reinforced by two fresh divisions, the Germans again made a bid for victory along the entire front before the village and wood. That this was a desperate and bloody fight, and inflicted heavy losses on the Germans. The left wing, however, despite its efforts, was compelled to give ground and to evacuate the village and wood, leaving them in the hands of the Germans. Berlin claims the Germans took 200 prisoners and six machine guns.

The latest British report announces that most of the ground lost has been re-taken and that the Germans are barely holding the village itself.

Germans Are Now Losing Ten Thousand a Day

The struggle on the western front has reached a point of intensity in the past two days, where the attempt to chronicle incidents is a mere futility. His forces battered, now perhaps shattered, Hindenburg is now throwing every man of his cherished strategic reserve into the struggle, hoping at all costs to prevent a further allied victory. For the time being all idea of a movement or the capture of positions has faded on the other side. Both forces are now locked fast in a fight to a finish, and the victories are not in the amount of ground gained, but in the men yet out of action.

The greatest accumulation of guns in the world's history flies unceasingly telling men at an unprecedented rate and the industry follows up in a manner reminiscent of the bloodiest battles of medieval warfare.

"Waterloo plans Hindenburg had for an offensive against the British must wait until he can reorganize his battered forces."
Since the first battle of Arras the British have taken nearly 50,000 prisoners in the west. Fighting on the basis that the enemy suffered five casualties for every prisoner, there is a minimum of 250,000 German killed and wounded last month, which gives a fair idea of the intensity and violence of the fighting at the two points of attack in France. It is likely the casualties run higher, but even these figures show an average of 10,000 daily.

If Russia is in a position to hit late this month, the blow will surely tell, because the allied offensive in the west has drawn many eastern divisions into the battle. Italy, too, may spring a surprise.
It would be too optimistic to present the battle as a costly business, not to the enemy, but to the allies in general, and the pace is furiously hot. But the highest authorities seem wonderfully confident of a favorable decision. Every officer returning from the fighting area says now there is no question of the result. Most of them expect a decision this year."

U. S. Wooden Ship Building Under Way

The U. S. administration's wooden ship building program is definitely under way, and the shipping board hopes within a few months to be turning out great numbers of vessels to run the German under-sea blockade. Some builders without formal contracts, however, are now in the hands of the board that the ships will be taken over when completed.

RETURNING TO CANADA

PH. Borden

Who is now nearing Canadian shores after attending the Imperial conference in London. According to present information, Sir Robert and his colleagues will take their seats in parliament on Monday, May 14th. The return of the premier will see the real work of the session begin. There will follow his return a series of most important cabinet meetings to discuss the war situation, plans and policies decided upon at the Imperial war conference, and to settle important domestic questions awaiting solution.

Japan is Asked to Move U. S. Troops

The British government has asked Japan whether it is in a position to furnish merchant ships for the transportation of American troops to France this year.
President Wilson informed the British and French commissioners that the United States desired to send troops as fast as they can be fitted for service and transported without interrupting unduly the flow of food and munitions to the allies in the restricted number of ships now available.
He said that if the allies would indicate the amount of shipping that could be released for troop transport it would be possible to estimate the number of soldiers that could be sent this year.

The allies turned to Japan for help. The inquiry addressed to Japan concerning its ability to furnish transports was sent with the knowledge and approval of the American government.

Japan has been increasing its ocean tonnage tremendously since the beginning of the war.
Word has reached Washington from Tokyo that Japan contemplates sending 200,000 men to Russia this year to help hold the eastern front. If this is true, it is probable that Japan would require a large tonnage for its own transport purposes.

It is believed to be not unlikely that the entrance of the United States into the war has spurred Japan to the desire to participate more effectively.

Canadian Casualties Are Now 14,000

The total Canadian casualties since Easter Monday, according to the official returns from the militia department, Ottawa, now amount to the enormous total of 14,000. From the data of casualties in telegrams that are still being received all lines are running in connection with the great Vimy Ridge fight—a terrible toll in an engagement which has undoubtedly been the most severe so far as Canadians are concerned, in the history of the war.

the conference will be made in the house immediately upon the premier's return.
The three biggest questions which must be settled are the question of extension of parliament, the solution of the railway problem, and the policy to be adopted to be adopted to meet the cessation of recruiting in the face of the terrible losses in the Canadian army.
On the first question the policy of the government is already known. There will be a proposal laid before parliament to extend parliament that was conditions may be attended to.

Snb Destruction Shows Decrease

A report from London says: "A substantial decrease in the number of ships sunk during the week will be shown in the forthcoming report. It is understood the report will show the smallest losses in the past three weeks.
No reason for this is given out by official sources, but it is plainly indicated that considerable progress has been made in the anti-submarine campaign. There is no guarantee that the weekly losses will not again assume alarming proportions, but the fact that they have been substantially reduced is very encouraging to those in charge of the campaign, and is believed that new measures to combat the under-water craft are already showing gratifying results."

British Parliament May Control Liquor

An order will be issued in the near future providing that the waste of any kind of food shall be a punishable offence. Captain Charles Bathurst, parliamentary secretary of the food, controller's department made this announcement in the house of commons.
Discussing in the house the work of the liquor control board which is to report, it is awaited with considerable interest as the government probably will limit its policy toward the liquor trade. A lively controversy is looked for between the advocates of total prohibition and government purchase.
The Pall Mall Gazette says it is rumored in quarters generally well informed that the government contemplates introducing a measure for state purchase of the liquor trade.

MANITOBA BARS COMMISSION HOUSES

The commission houses of Winnipeg closed their doors to business last Monday. The "act" respecting agents for the sale of intoxicating liquors in Manitoba, came into effect and the last form of public shop traffic in liquorous liquors in Manitoba is ended. The validity of the law will, all probability, be tested very shortly either by a test case or else by a stated case.

Memorial Service for Our Fallen Heroes

Beautiful and impressive was the service memorial of our heroes who have fallen since the last annual service in December, when we met last Sunday in the Presbyterian church.
There was a large congregation present and was fitting as a token of our admiration for the courage and gratitude for the self-sacrifice of those men, the choir rendered appropriate music very effectively. Rev. G. L. Vernon took for his text Matthew 16:26, "Whoever wills to save his life shall lose it; and whoever wills to lose his life for My sake shall find it." His saving of loss of life, the preacher said, is in the domain of our own will; for God, having already made his choice for us, demands that we make our choice. A life saved at the cost of truth, honor, uprightness, faithfulness to God and man, is lost, burdened by the sin of it, faithfulness to God and man is sustained by the sin of it, worse than worthless. The speaker had his message of doom in the words of the text. A person is more precious than all the possessions he possibly can have. These can be bought, but who can buy his heritage, patriotism, the highest disposition, the beautiful outlook on life? Self-sacrifice is self-sacrifice. The will to lose one's life is to be absorbed in something worthy as to forget one's self. Amongst the many interests of life, what one motive can develop in us this steady self-sacrifice? One of the new things Jesus brought was this motive: "For My sake." And this was their motive who gave their lives in France for the liberties of Canada. Of the 22 who were our fellow citizens in Redcliff have given their lives on the battlefield. It is on the honor roll of this congregation.
Why do we mourn? Why go we before we mourn?
Why mourn the prairie that before was glad?
What now has made the path so long and weary?
We found too short for all the joy we had?

We mourn the young, the strong, the faithful,
Whose uncompleted years have found an end.
The lives so noble yet cut down so quickly
With sorrow now our bosoms rend.

There is no path through Redcliff and its mourners.
Not yet by South Saskatchewan river but memory holds some token of their presence
And their dear footsteps hallowed for ever.
With gladness to the house of God they led us
To sing His praise and worship at His feet;
And now they worship at the throne of glory,
And walk with joy along his golden street.

Asleep somewhere in Europe's blood-stained soil
Their bodies lie till resurrection dawn
Their spirits, adored of angels, hate an end.
Aye to the presence of their Saviour gone.
They bravely fought for freedom, Christ and us;
To keep us free their lives they held "not dear";
We mourn their loss, these strong, brave Redcliff men,
With pride remembering friendship so sincere.

U. S. Liberty Loan Is Sweeping Treasury

The flood of subscriptions to the United States Liberty Loan continues unabated. Officials estimated that since 2 o'clock last Saturday, when the last compilation was made, and up to closing time last Monday, telegraph offers had been received to the sum of $172,000,000. Should this estimate be correct the total thus far approaches $600,000,000.

Only the banks and wealthy individuals have been heard from. The small investors have been silent except indirectly. Officials believe, however, that a great army of men of moderate means are anxious to invest and to this end a program is being made in which every man in the country with only a small amount to spare to buy at least one bond.

RED CROSS SENDS $300 THIS MONTH

It Goes to Headquarters to Hold The Good Work—
Local Branch to Have Tea
And Shower on May 23rd

The regular meeting of the Red Cross executive was held in the society's rooms last Tuesday afternoon. As the presentation of the treasurer's report for the month showed that the society in good financial condition it was decided to send a check for $300.00 to the head executive at once.

A letter was read from Miss M. S. Cameron in which she tendered her resignation as superintendent of work, as she was leaving town. The resignation was accepted and the secretary was instructed to write Miss Cameron extending to her the thanks of the society for the painstaking and efficient manner in which she had performed the duties devolving upon the office while under her charge.

Mrs. Oates and Mrs. Argue were chosen to fill the vacancy, the former to take charge of the buying and the latter to look after the work book. A motion was passed tendering a vote of thanks to the members of the M. U. M. club for their handsome donation as a result of their dance held last month.

A letter was read from the head organization asking for assistance of the local branch in securing farm produce, vegetables, home-made delicacies and money for the military hospital at Ogden, Alberta.

To raise funds and provisions for this purpose it was decided to hold an afternoon tea and shower on May 23rd (Empire Day). On this occasion friends are asked to bring with them preserves, pickles, home cooking and any other delicacies which they think would be appreciated by the sick or convalescent soldiers in Alberta's military hospitals.

The place where this tea and shower will be held will be announced in our next issue. For those in the surrounding country who will not be able to attend the shower the Redcliff was asked to suggest that any who could supply any of these articles should send them direct to the hospital either by freight or express, and also to notify the the honorable chairman of Supplies, Canadian Red Cross Society, Rex Theatre, Calgary, as soon as any such parcels are sent.

The committee appointed to arrange for the tea are: Mrs. Harbert, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Oates, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Argue, Mr. Howard and Miss Gibson.

The following is the treasurer's report for the month:

TO LIMIT KAISER'S POWER,

A restriction of the power of the emperor of Germany has been decided upon by the constitution committee of the Reichstag, according to a dispatch from Berlin. The committee has decided to alter article XVII of the imperial constitution as follows:
"Ordinances and decrees of the Kaiser will be issued in the name of the emperor and will enable virtually the emperor's representative, the imperial chancery or his representative, who thereby assumes responsibility to

A BOARD OF TRADE.

We were favored this week with a visit from Mr. John Knox, route agent for the Dominion Express Company, and in discussing some matters of importance which a Board of Trade could take up just now.

Matters which are of the utmost importance to the town in its present promising condition. We need right now something that will foster the "get together" spirit among our citizens and nothing would hit the town more fully than a board of trade. There is bound to be a great benefit from just getting together once or twice a month and talking things over.

We fear that the depression and falling off in business during the first eighteen months of the war has knocked the pep out of too many of our people throughout Canada. Let us remember that a dead fish goes with the stream but it takes a live one to go up against it. There never was a time in the history of Redcliff when we needed live ones more than we do right now. Let us jump in and get our fins wet.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

At the meeting of the Red Cross executive last Tuesday a letter was read from the head organization asking the assistance of the local branch in securing provisions for the Military Hospital at Ogden. What is asked for more particularly is butter, eggs, vegetables, home cooking, preserves, pickles, and money. In an effort to secure some of these articles the local branch intend holding a tea and shower on the 23rd of this month when friends are asked to bring as much of the above as they can spare. The people of the surrounding country are also asked to join in this tea and shower but if there are any who cannot be present they can assist in this work by sending their contributions direct to the hospital in the manner outlined in another article in this issue.

There are few, if any, farmers in this district who cannot give something along the lines above mentioned, and while we know this is a busy season on the farm, this important matter should not be overlooked.

The prairie fire brigade has been doing good work burning off the prairie around town this last few weeks. It is hoped they will not get weary of well doing. We might suggest that it would be a good idea if the weeds along the fence on the west side of the spur track which run down to the rolling mills and brick plants, were raked into a pile and burned. Just now the shunting engine spends considerable time on this siding and a spare spark might do considerable damage. The railway fence, the pound and the Glass plant fence would furnish good material for a spread if a fire once got started.

Announcement that the governments of the United States and Canada are contemplating taking some steps to regulate the food supply and control food prices, will be welcome news in known as "The Cow Bill." This bill is now in operation, and application for loans under this Act. The Act provides that if five or more farmers may avail themselves of its provisions by joining together for the purpose of obtaining a loan to be repaid by the government, the loan is to be repaid for a period of five years at 6 per cent interest. The farmer receives the full $1000 loan has nothing to pay but $30 interest one year until the end of five years. The only expense in connection with the loan is a fee of $1 for every $100 borrowed. There is no further expense in connection with chattel mortgages or the registration of the same, as the Live Stock Commissioner in the Department of Agriculture holds the cattle security of the loan by means of a government bond. A certain amount of supervision is made over the purchase of the cattle, or rather, the farmer is given whatever assistance he may require in the purchase of his cows. The money must be used exclusively in the purchase of cows of heifers, except in case a number of members of an association wish to purchase a pure-bred bull to be used by the association, and then 10 per cent of their money may be used for that purpose.

The purchaser of live stock under this Act must retain the progeny of the cow or heifer in his possession, and he is not to sell, except that he can sell the steers when they are two years old and use the proceeds in connection with his farming business. None of the original cows or heifers, or cows or heifers bred from them, can be sold without the consent of the Live Stock Commissioner. This consent, of course, will be given in case a farmer should require to sell any of them except for other reasons, replacing those sold with other cows or heifers. Of course it is the easiest thing in the world to pick out mistakes after they are made but it is not up to those who have had two guesses to do the complaining. However now that mistakes are discovered even by those who made them, a change cannot be brought about any more.

After the prairie fire last Sunday afternoon it was suggested to us that it would be a good idea if those who go to fires would do a little more work to help the firemen and a whole lot less joking and rail finding. The suggestion is a good one and we pass it along.

We are informed that some boys are in the habit of taking 22 calibre shot and going out to take a pot shot at setting wild ducks, then robbing their nests of the eggs. Parents should remind their boys that this is against the law and that they are liable to a heavy fine.

Although the Canadian casualties since Vimy Ridge now reach the large number of fourteen thousand, and although Redcliff has contributed its share to the fatalities, it is comforting to know that a large percentage of the total are wounded and some only slightly.

Let every man in Redcliff get the tree planting habit this spring.

Preachers and Priests Against Irish Partition

The London papers display prominently a manifesto in Ireland by 18 Roman Catholic bishops, three Protestant bishops and five clergymen of county councils strongly protesting against the partition of Ireland and appealing to the people to sign a protest against such a step. The manifesto is declared to be the first time that Irish prelates of the Roman and Protestant churches have combined for political action.

In some of the Dublin dispatches it is contended that the manifesto has killed any idea of settling the Irish difficulty by the separation of Ulster.

"The Cow Bill."

The Live Stock Encouragement Act, which was passed at the recent session of the Alberta Legislature, commonly known as "The Cow Bill," is now in operation, and application for loans under this Act. Britain Rushes Scheme To Control Food

Whether the British people will respond to appeals for voluntary bread and wheat flour rationing embodied in the Government's recent proposals in posters and pamphlets, issued by the ministry on food, remains to be seen. In the meantime the ministry is working at high pressure to put the finishing touches on the machinery which will be established for compulsory rationing unless the country cuts down on consumption sharply on its own volition. The rationing of 5,000,000 or more people presents a tremendous and intricate problem.

Bernard Devotion, food controller, has turned over to the War Office a report on the food situation in the organization developed by Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the American commission for relief in Belgium, for guidance.

Hun Papers Blame Bethmann-Hollweg

According to a 'Ruester' dispatch from Amsterdam, the Pan-German newspapers in Berlin continue their attacks on the imperial chancellor. They accuse Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg of betraying his country in the Reichstag interpellation regarding Germany's war aims until after the Stockholm Socialist conference. They complain against such leadership of a great empire and advocate the holding of public meetings to protest against the "betrayal" of the country when the empire seriously needs strong guidance.

Says U. S. Will Lose Millions of Men

"I regret to say that I think before this war is over we shall have lost millions of men, just as England and France have," former President Taft told audience in Grace Methodist church in New York, in discussing the war. "Because we have entered the war late and our men and resources have not been depleted; this country will be the most powerful that will sit in the peace conference, and our voice will be for justice," he added.

If Emperor William and Emperor Charles were forced to abdicate tomorrow we would have peace in two weeks—and that is the sense we are fighting for," declared Mr. Taft.

Down With the King Says Soloniki Mob

Telegraphing from Saloniki Sunday, Ruester's correspondent says: "Today was a great day in the history of Saloniki. A mass meeting proclaimed the deposition of the king and dynasty."
 "Over forty thousand persons assembled in the principal square, and were addressed by various speakers. They cheered enthusiastically with shouts of 'Long live Venizelos!' 'Long live the national government!' and 'Down with the king!'"
 "The minister at Saloniki presided."

One-third of the large munitions plant of the Federal Dynamite and Chemical company at Kingsport, Tenn., has been destroyed by a terrific explosion. The one man was killed and two probably fatally burned. No statement is available concerning the cause. Troops outside the works were knocked down by the force of the explosion.

No More Meatless Days in Britain

Great Britain's "meatless day" is to be abolished, because it augments the demand on breadstuffs and other substitutes which are less plentiful than meat. This was announced by Baron Devonport, the food controller, in the house of lords.
 Baron Devonport declared that a diminution in the consumption of breadstuffs was of vital moment and a main factor in the situation, but he added: "Provided that the call for a reduction is responded to, and the efforts of the subcommittee are not successful beyond reasonable likelihood, we shall get through with a fairly sufficient balance at the time the new harvest becomes available."

The Germans have counter-attacked along the entire front and everywhere have been repulsed, according to the French official statement. The fighting was especially severe in the region of the sub-marines, the Danes, and east of Soissons. Since April 16 the French have taken 29,000 prisoners.

What the Y.M.C.A. is Doing for the Canadian Soldiers

Bare statistics cannot properly convey a correct conception of this work; they will, however, help to show its scope.

There is a Y.M.C.A. encampment in every camp in Canada.

There are over 80 branches of Canadian Y.M.C.A. in France. Eighty-four men who rank as honoraries captains have been sent overseas; about half of this number are in France.

Altogether over 500 N.C.O.'s and men under Y.M.C.A. direction are serving our boys in the Army. Special Y.M.C.A. officers give their attention to the returning wounded Canadians.

Enormous quantities of drinks of tea, coffee, etc., are dispensed to the soldiers in France. Over a million sheets of letter paper with envelopes and writing facilities are provided free every month, in both England and France, and over two million have been similarly used in Canada since June.

On request of soldiers' Overseas, snapshots of their families are sent to them. Hundreds of thousands of new and used magazines are supplied in England and France each month. Circulating libraries are kept in many of the branches.

Wherever possible a Y.M.C.A. are used for regular military training. There are many instances where secretaries are well equipped with writing material, reading matter, small games, song sheets, etc.

Errands of varying importance are willingly attended to, and small purchases amounting at times to hundreds of dollars a day are executed for soldiers at the front by a Y.M.C.A. staff in England.

Y.M.C.A. staff in England and France, and the big camps in England always includes moving pictures, often the small portable moving picture outfits are used to entertain isolated units.

In France, wherever the Y.M.C.A. is, gramophones are to be found. So great is this feature, that one man gives his whole time to conducting the record and film exchange.

Every evening finds thousands of Canadian soldiers in concerts, entertainments and lectures under Y.M.C.A. auspices. The pianos are a source of continual delight to the boys.

Thousands of Canadian soldiers assemble every week to hear religious address and sing the old hymns. In France Y.M.C.A. secretaries find great difficulty in closing the meeting, the men are so glad to get together in this way.

The City Associations keep an open door for our soldiers and are always ready for the soldier's call. In many cases Y.M.C.A. gymnasia are used for regular military training. They have organized them physically until recruits receiving special treatment from Y.M.C.A. physical directors and then being accepted for service.

There have been occasions when the Y.M.C.A. canteen near the front line was able to save many Canadian lives by giving away free the entire stock when rations were interrupted during a heavy engagement.

The whole Y.M.C.A. program is distinctly religious. In the home training camps this is particularly true. In France the religious program is not overlooked, but is made of other features to counteract certain outside activities. In France every opportunity is taken advantage of (for religious activities), and the value of the Y.M.C.A. in keeping men in touch with old ideals of living and reminding them of the old environment cannot be over-estimated.

A great contribution is made to "The Spirit of the Army in France" by supplying quantities of athletic material, by the concerts in the rest camps, the service of the dugouts, contents, etc.

This program involves an immense outlay in huts, tents, etc. In France these vary in size from tiny dugouts in immense numbers where 5,000 men may be accommodated in a concert at one time, besides all the writing and refreshment facilities.

Y.M.C.A. officers in Canada give special attention to hospital work. Records under Y.M.C.A. direction covered the four Divisions in France. The best talent in England is continually appearing before the Canadians.

Major Birks, in charge of the Y.M.C.A. Military Work Overseas, says, "The work is about as varied as the number of men."

LLOYD GEORGE

Speaking at Y.M.C.A. Sports, said: "I congratulate the Y.M.C.A. on the way in which they have organized these sports. They have organized them so that they have organized everything else in this war, with a most perfect success. Wherever I go, I hear nothing but good of the work they are doing throughout the country, and we owe to them a very deep debt of gratitude."

INFANTS' OFFICIAL GUARDIAN.

The Province of Alberta now has an Official Guardian. The Lieutenant Governor in Council has appointed Arthur G. Breving, K.C., Deputy Attorney General, of Edmonton, to be Official Guardian under the Act, with the powers and duties therein specified. The government has provided legislation available to protect the property of infants as well as, and in addition to, the protection afforded to their persons under the Children's Protection Act. The Official Guardian Act, 1917 (c. 19) enables this to be done. Section 4 provides as follows:

- Act as guardian ad litem of infants.
- Act in the administration of estates upon order of the act.
- Act as custodian of property of missing persons, convicts or deceased persons.
- Act as judicial trustee of the estate of any deceased person upon the order of the Court.
- Act as guardian of any infant made a ward of the Court under the Children's Protection Act, being Chapter 15 of the Statutes of 1909.
- Act in such other capacity and do such other acts, matters, and things, as an Official Guardian is authorized or required to do by the Rules of Court or by order of a Judge or by order of the Lieutenant Governor in Council or under the Act.

These powers are very wide in their application and in order that every assistance possible be given to the Official Guardian to carry them out, the Act provides he shall be served with notice of every application to, and Court in any manner affecting the infant or his estate. Full particulars must be given showing the object of the Application and the effect it will have on the estate of the infant. Executors and administrators can be compelled to pass their accounts to, and be audited and dealings therewith investigated. Actions and proceedings may be instituted to take all such proceedings as may be deemed necessary for the protection of the estate of the infant. The Act does not in any way interfere with the rights of any parties at present or in the future, who are settling legally as guardian of any infant, but in cases where the infant's property seems likely to be endangered by the neglect of the guardian, it will be to intervene. Orders under the Act can be enforced by attachment. He will at all times be available for consultation and advice where the care of any infant is affected.

All correspondence should be addressed to:

Jews Forced Out of Jaffa by the Turks

The entire Jewish population of Jaffa, Palestine, about 8,000 men, women and children of many nationalities, were forced by the Turks on April 1st to evacuate their homes and flee from the city, according to a telegram received in New York by the provisional executive committee for Jew Zionists affairs.

The roads leading from Jaffa are thronged with starving people, some dying by the roadside, and mutilated bodies of rich Jews were found on the sand dunes, the message said.

No Lessons Wanted.
Mr. Sharp, a lawyer, had in his office a boy who, unfortunately, was given to troubling the boys in other offices who happened in his.
This state of affairs could not of course, be allowed to continue. Sharp felt compelled to dismiss the lad, but when doing so, decided to give him some wise counsel, hoping thereby to save him from a similar fault in the future.
"Tommy," he said, "you must remember never to hear anything that is said in an office. No matter how much it is said to you, but when a deaf ear to conversation which does not concern you."
The boy was satisfied and happy when he was dismissed. He was, however, a little bit of a mischief maker, and he was, therefore, a little bit of a mischief maker.
"Miss Brown, did you hear what I just said to Tommy?"
"No, Mr. Sharp," came Miss Brown's prompt reply.

Fish Not Wanted

"I hear you're going to marry Archie Blundell, Diana. Is it true?" asked one young society woman of another.
"Marry him? I should think not! What on earth could I do with the man? He can't ride, he can't play tennis, golf, nor, for that matter, can he even drive a motor car!"
"Oh," said the friend, "but he can swim beautifully, you know!"
"Swim, indeed! Now, I ask you, would you like a husband who had to keep in an aquarium?"

Economy of Labor

Father's Grave Error
A little boy was overheard saying to his pet rabbit:
"How much is seven times seven?"
"How much is seven times seven?"
"How I will give you an easy one. How much is two times two?"
"The rabbit refused to respond."
"Well," said the boy, "my father was telling when he said rabbits are the greatest multipliers in the world!"

A Sprig of Plead

"Love is like a kitten," gurgled the sweet young thing. "It is born blind." "Yes; but it only takes a kitten nine days to get its eyes opened," replied the brute.

Seized Ships Nice Pickup for Allies

Further survey of the seized German and Austrian ships by the United States Navy, he calls the page for January 1, 1917, from his old diary and posted it in under 1914.

Suggests Government Control of Food

Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the food committee of the council of national defense in the United States, explained the food problem to the government at a closed session of the house agricultural committee.

Mr. Hoover told the committee that government control of the distribution, transportation and preferential shipment of food was more essential than the power to fix the maximum and minimum prices.

Clifford Pinchot, before the senate agricultural committee, urged immediate action to meet the food situation. He said that the farmer should be given assurance of a fixed price for his products in order to induce him to plant larger crops and recommended that the president be empowered to fix these prices.

School Pupils May Help the Farmers

Announcement was made in Regina that collegiate and high school pupils, whose services are required on farms may, an application to the deputy minister of education, and on the recommendation of the principal or teacher, be permitted to proceed to the work of the next higher form without examination, providing they have been regular attendants for at least six months, that their work has been satisfactory and that they enter on their employment not later than June 1st.

Carl Schmidt, a German machinist, was arrested by the federal authorities in Detroit. Besides a local charge Schmidt is wanted in connection with the Kibigon bridge explosion on the Canadian Pacific railway.

The total enlistments in Canada for active service up to March 31, were 407,221 men and of that number 49,031 have been discharged medically unfit. This includes men who have been incapacitated by wounds.

A meeting is being held in Medicine Hat tonight to arrange a baseball league with the Hat teams. Delegates from Redcliff have been invited to be present. It is hoped some satisfactory arrangements can be made whereby Redcliff can be taken into the league as we expect to have a good team here this year.

A number of young people in town assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fairbairn last Friday evening and held on impromptu surprise party in honor of Wm. Stinson who had just returned from England after being a year in the trenches. A pleasant evening, in which games and music formed an important part, was spent, after which refreshments were served. Mr. Stinson left on Monday for Manitoba where he will visit his father and brother before returning to England.

Says Women Should Use Whole Wheat Flour

Dr. Harvey Wiley, famous food expert of the United States, says that the biggest war work in which the women of this continent can engage at this moment is to demand whole wheat flour. The flours are about alike as to price, but in turning wheat into white flour the millers discard 23 per cent of the wheat. Over a quarter of the wheat crop is lost as human food because we demand flour as white as possible. In other words, if the women demanded whole wheat instead of white flour, they would save to this continent between 90,000,000 and 100,000,000 bushels of wheat per year.

Another loan to Great Britain within the next week was forecast by officials in Washington. The first credit of $200,000,000 is being spent at the rate of $5,000,000 a day on purchases in the United States, and it is desired to complete the second loan before the British committee leaves Washington and before the first is entirely used up. It probably will be larger than the first credit.
